

TRIO HELD UP ON NAT'L ROAD BY TWO BANDITS

TORONTO, CANADA, PEOPLE RELIEVED OF MORE THAN $40 AT POINT OF GUN

TAKE SHOT AT VICTIMS CAR
Bandits Staged Several Holdups But Escape Local Authorities Early Today

Three people from Toronto, Canada were victims of two gunmen on the National road at Pleasant Gardens, about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning when the gunmen crowded their auto into the ditch and relieved them of between $40 and $50 in cash. It was said one of the gunmen was intoxicated and wanted to shoot the male member of the Toronto party.

The victims of the holdup gave their names as Harold Masso and Amelia Ford, 171 College avenue, and Edith Kiefer, 599 St. Clair avenue, all of Toronto, Canada. They said they were enroute home by way of Detroit when they were crowded into the ditch by the bandits.

It was said the two gunmen drove up behind the Toronto car about 3 o'clock in the morning and forced it into the ditch. One shot was fired by the bandits which scored a fender on the left side of the car. The Toronto people were forced to get out of their car and hand over their money.

The larger of the two bandits was intoxicated, it was said, and wanted to shoot Masso, but was dissuaded by his companion. Only a meager description of the bandits was secured. One was described as big and heavy with a round face and wearing an overcoat. The other man was said to have been sharp featured, rather thin and of medium build, and wearing a sheepskin coat.

Sheriff Alva Bryan and Officer Scott of Greencastle were notified and hurried to Pleasant Gardens but found no trace of the bandits. It was said the bandits also robbed a Brazil man of $4 and tried to stop a large Kroger truck but failed when the truck driver turned the tables on them and almost forced their Ford car into the ditch. Several other persons also were held up by the pair it was said, but their names were not learned.

The Toronto party secured the license number of the car, 183-702 which was found to belong to a car owned by George Bernstead of Terre Haute, which was stolen Tuesday night.

Mrs. Ford was said to be an aunt of the other two Toronto people who were brother and sister.

DR. OXNAM IN JAPAN CHAPEL TALK SERIES

DEPAUW PRESIDENT TO SPEAK
TWICE EACH WEEK ON JAPANESE NATION

President Oxnam inaugurated the first of his series of talks on Japan in chapel Tuesday morning. He laid the geographic background of that empire in order that his audience might see more clearly the other aspects of that country. His second talk will be on the economic aspect the next on the historical background, the next on the psychological aspect, the following one on the religious background, and the last on the interpretation of the present situation in the light of these other aspects.

No regular speaking arrangement has been decided upon but President Oxnam usually appears about twice a week on chapel programs. Concerning the geographic background of the empire, Dr. Oxnam said:

"If you take a compass and place one point on the northern boundary of Japan in Sakhalin and then describe a circle that will include the southernmost boundary of Formosa and then turn the globe about and place one of the points at Boston, the other surprisingly will describe a circle that cuts through the Panama Canal. Since Formosa is south of the main body of islands, the same procedure is used except for the fact that the southern island of Kyushu is used for the southern boundary. That distance when put upon the map of the United States would run from Augusta, Maine, to Key West, Florida. The result is that when people ask 'What is the climate of

Monon Officials At Rotary Meeting

CONDITIONS OF RAILROADS
GIVEN AS BASIS OF INTERESTING TALK WEDNESDAY

J. R. Stemm, superintendent of the Monon railroad and C. C. Shoultz, rainmaster, were guests of the Rotary club Wednesday and Mr. Stemm, in an interesting talk told of the conditions facing the railroads today. He showed how the Monon had been losing money for the past two years and that the people of the nation are facing in the way of broken down transportation systems, if conditions are not changed.

He showed how bus and truck competition, along with private automobiles have taken away freight and passenger business of the railroads that is causing them to face bankruptcy. He said the Monon paid in taxes to Putnam County in 1931, approximately $60,000. He said the company lost 94 per cent of its 1929 business by 1931.

He said the railroads are paying taxes to build and maintain highways on which competitive transportation systems operate for nothing. He showed how truck lines, competing, haul freight through Indiana with no avenue to the state, because they buy gasoline before leaving in sufficient amounts to make the return trip. He said the railroads only want fair treatment but he said they are not getting it now and there is danger of even more strict regulation from law making bodies, which he protested.

Robert Eirik, 25, Elwood, only one of the trio to escape from the hail of shotgun slugs and revolver bullets fired by Chief of Police Lewis Startzman and Patrolman Loren McBride, was under arrest.

The officers said the chicken thieves opened fire on them, when commanded to surrender.

MAY DESIGNATE THRU STREETS BY ORDINANCE

MOTION FOR CITY STATUTE
MADE BY COUNCILMAN
JOHN CHERRY

THREE PERMITS ARE GRANTED

Mayor Calls Attention of City Council to Ordinance of 1922 Governing Parking Etc.

An ordinance designating Jackson, Washington, Bloomington and College avenue and Locust street south of Washington street, as through or preferential streets in the city of Greencastle, probably will be drawn up by the city following a motion made by councilman John Cherry and approved by the other members at their meeting Tuesday evening.

In making the motion Cherry stated that Jackson, Washington and Bloomington are now used as state highways through the city and should be made through streets. South Locust street and south College avenue, both of which are paved, are dangerous to cross traffic, and should be made preferential streets also, it was said. Walnut street was discussed as a through street but due to the fact that it would speed up east and west traffic past the high school building, it was dropped from the list of preferential streets.

It was said the new ordinance would provide for the erection of stop signs at every street crossing the preferential streets, and a penalty would be provided for offenders.

Still penalties for motorists who run stop and go signs also will be incorporated in the new ordinance, it was indicated. The council members discussed the possibility of placing a speed limit on traffic on the through streets, but whether or not this will conflict with state laws which fix the speed limits in cities, was to be thrashed out before the ordinance was acted on.

On a motion by councilman Cherry the council voted to purchase a road grader blade for the sum of $325 from gasoline tax money. This price is said to be $50 under the regular price for such equipment.

Permits were granted to Blanche Halton to improve a house at 730 east Seminary street; to Robert Heber to erect a 10 by 14 building on Gillespie street, and to H. A. Church to remodel a house at 412 east Washington street.

Claims against the city were allowed without objection by the council members. One claim was for $53, the price of a sewer root cutter.

Mayor W. L. Denman called attention of the council members to an ordinance published Sept. 21, 1922, governing parking and auto traffic in the city. He said the ordinance gave the police full control of the city streets and provided stiff penalties for violators of the ordinance.

DEATH CALLS EMMET BRANCH EX-GOVERNOR

PROMINENT INDIANA REPUBLICAN DIES AT HOME IN MARTINSVILLE

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL

Served As State's Chief Executive In 1924-25. Veteran of Spanish-American and World Wars

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 24, (UP)—Emmet F. Branch, 57, governor of Indiana in 1924 and 1925, died of heart disease at his home here at 9:45 last night. He had been ill only a few hours.

Branch was elected lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket when Warren T. McGraw was chosen executive. He succeeded to the governorship in 1924 when McGraw withdrew, and served until Ed Jackson was appointed in 1925.

As the grandson of a state senator, Branch entered politics as a candidate for state representative in 1903. He was elected. In 1905 he was re-elected and two years later was named speaker of the house.

At the Republican national convention in 1924 Branch made the address nominating Senator James E. Watson for president.

Branch was a veteran of three armed conflicts.

Two years after graduation from Indiana university he joined the army in the Spanish American war. It was said he was the first volunteer from Morgan county.

During difficulties with Mexico on the border, Branch served as a lieutenant colonel. He declined an appointment as adjutant general of Indiana and in the World war served as a colonel. He was not overseas.

Branch was regarded as stern, resourceful and fair. His wit was sharp but his attitude, when confronted with business, was austere. He was a native of Martinsville and lived here the greater part of his life.

The widow, a brother, James Elliott Branch, an instructor in the University of Illinois, and a sister Miss Alice Louise, of Martinsville, survive.

SPONSORSHIP OF TRI KAPPA

The Tri Kappa sorority will sponsor the appearance of Marquis, the great magician, here Friday and again Saturday evening of this week. He will appear at the high school auditorium. Marquis is one of the leading magicians of the United States and it was only the fact that he had open dates this week, while enroute from New Orleans to western points, that he was secured for two days here. No doubt he is the greatest magician to ever appear in Greencastle and the ticket sale for the two nights promises to be unusually large. Proceeds from the appearances will go to the charity fund of the society sponsoring the shows.

SURVEY MADE BY LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

LAST MEETING OF ORGANIZATION

COUNTY DATA IS COMPILED

Statistics Regarding Operating Cost Of Putnam County Secured In State-Wide Endeavor

The last session of the Putnam County League of Women Voters which was held at the home of Mrs. Jacob Bantz, proved most interesting as well as educational to those who attended.

At this meeting the first reports of the county survey conducted by the league were given by Mrs. Archie Allen and Mrs. Theodore Crawley. This survey is being conducted throughout the state by the Indiana league in an endeavor to bring out the weaknesses of local government in relation to taxation on real estate.

The following facts of interest were revealed by the first reports in Putnam county. Total expenditures in the county for the years 1927 to 1931, inclusive, were:

1927—$1,588,354.83.
1928—$1,395,396.60.
1929—$1,227,621.63.
1930—$1,240,369.78.
1931—$1,021,405.83.

Total population in county in 1930 was 20,448.

Per capita cost of government in 1931 was $49.95.

The county revenue for the five years beginning in 1927, both general fund and gravel road repair fund was:

1927—G. F., 25c. G. R. R., 30c.
1928—G. F., 30c. G. R. R., 22½c.
1929—G. F., 30c. G. R. R., 22½c.
1930—G. F., 25c. G. R. R., 20c.
1931—G. F., 30c. G. R. R., 10c.

Gasoline tax received in 1930, $42,221.96.

Total bonded indebtedness, Jan. 1932, $811,340.05.

Gravel road bonds $569,130.45.

County unit roads, (1927), $299,096.

Hospital bonds (1922), $45,000.

Bridge bonds (1929), $5,113.60.

The balance in county on Jan. 1, 1931, $48,847.35.

The budget is made by the various departments and boards who submit it to the county council. County commissioners can not raise the budget. The budget does not include all expenditures, the exceptions being state school funds, gravel road repairs, bonds and coupons.

There is no central purchasing agent in the county, this being in the hands of the county commissioners.

In the report on the county jail it was shown that the average number of prisoners is about one a day, but that it will hold from 25 to 30. An average of about four or five women prisoners each year are received. The sheriff is allowed 20 cents a meal for each prisoner. The board of charities is responsible for the inspection of this institution.

Miss Florence Kirlin, editor of the Indiana Woman Voter, has the following to say about county government: "County government originated in this country about 1645 in New England but never gained much prominence. The county as we know it developed in the middle Atlantic states.

"Indiana is the only state which has both a board of county commissioners and a county council.

"Since the early part of the 17th century little change has been made in county government.

"The dual character of the county is difficult to understand. It is an administrative agent of the state and also a unit of local government.

"The county violates all principles of governmental organization and sound business policy.

"It has no responsible head.

"Many elective county officers should be eliminated and their work redistributed to prevent expenses overlapping.

"Townships should be eliminated entirely, or the number reduced to one for each county.

"To make any far reaching change in the set-up of county government, the Constitution must be changed. How—that is the question.

"The citizens of the state must ruthlessly cut through the bonds of tradition, habit and political thought which bind them to an out-moded, never very effective, and under present conditions conditions, hopelessly inefficient, system of local government and prove that they are equally as capable of meeting the needs of the present age as were their forefathers to meet the demands of a pioneer period."

UNITED STATES TO STAND BY "OPEN DOOR" POLICY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24, (UP)—Secretary of State Stimson today announced to the world that the United States would stand by its "open door" policy in the Orient.

He also indirectly charged Japan with violating the nine powers treaty and the Kellogg pact. Had these treaties been "faithfully observed" the present situation in China would not have developed, he maintained.

$25,000 WILL BE SPENT ON POSTOFFICE

CONTRACT TO BE LET IN WASHINGTON MARCH 3 FOR LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

Approximately $25,000 will be spent by the government in improving the local Postoffice this summer, according to plans and specifications of the improvement received by local postoffice officials. A contract for the improvement will be let at Washington, D. C. March 3.

It was said the improvement will result in moving the south wall of the Postoffice back to the alley, a distance of about 20 feet. This will give the mail clerks in the office much more room and will permit the moving of the rural clerks out of the basement where they now sort their mail.

A new heating system, two electrical drinking fountains, and other minor changes will be incorporated in the improvement. The basement of the building also will be extended under the added part, it was said.

Outer walls of the new addition will be made to conform with the present postoffice exterior. Entrance to the postoffice for the employees probably will be through a basement door on the southeast corner, it was said.

Second Recital Next Tuesday

PROFESSORS SHEFFIELD AND
LEACH TO APPEAR IN ME-
HARRY HALL

Professors Vernon Sheffield and Rowland Leach will play the second of the current season's sonata recitals Tuesday evening, March 1, in Melharry hall. This will be the eleventh recital for these two DePauw Music School artists in Greencastle. Their programs have been made up from the works of the world's greatest composers and at least half of the twenty-seven compositions played have been offered for the first time in this community.

One of the unusual aspects of these sonata programs has been the wide range of materials used, beginning with Bach and including the works of the outstanding musicians of the classic, romantic and modern periods. The list includes also such contemporary composers as Stravinsky, Chavez, Tansman and Lueniger.

The recital Tuesday night will begin at 8 o'clock and will feature one of the finest compositions of the brilliant English composer, Cyril Scott. Few composers, even among the great, have succeeded in putting on paper more sustained beauty, more expressiveness and more tonal richness than has Scott in his Sonata in C, which Prof. Sheffield and Prof. Leach will bring to first performance in Greencastle.

The Scott sonata will be preceded by a transcription of the Gregg cello sonata made by Petrie. Another fine audience is anticipated for this sonata program as the reception given Professors Sheffield and Leach was spontaneous from their first appearance in this type of recital.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24, (UP)—Dr. Robert H. Kent, acting president of Franklin college, will continue in that position throughout the 1932 and 1933 school year, the college board of directors decided at a meeting here last night.

CALM BEFORE STORM ALONG CHAPAI FRONT

Nippon Forces To Launch New Offensive When Reinforcements Reach Battle Zone

SHANGHAI, Feb. 24, (UP)—Chinese artillery, mounted on railway trucks, bombarded the Japanese wharves in the international settlement tonight. The shelling was caused by reports that the Japanese were preparing to land reinforcements.

A Japanese air squadron dropped nine bombs on the Lungghua and Chenju railroad stations, damaging the platforms and destroying nearby cottages, although the railway was undamaged.

Chenju is due north of the settlement in the Kiangwan battle area. Linchu is in another direction, on the Whiangpoo, a little southwest of the French concession.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 24, (UP)—Chinese defenders of the ruins of Tazang worked desperately today to strengthen the death trap they have prepared for the Japanese 9th division, knowing full well that 25,000 Nipponese fighting men are speeding to the aid of the invaders.

Chinese infantry meanwhile attacked the entire Chapei front, at international settlement, after shelling the Japanese army with heavy artillery fire.

Japanese activities centered on mopping up snipers in Kiangwan village.

Gen. Tsi Ting-Kai, commanding the 19th Chinese route army, told the United Press at noon that Japanese offensive was still stopped dead pending arrival of reinforcements.

Reports that an offensive was started Wednesday were denied officially at Japanese quarters, where it was said that the Tazang front was quiet at 5:30 p. m. (4:30 a. m. EST.)

An official Chinese statement said all fronts were "virtually quiet" Wednesday as the Japanese awaited reinforcements. The Chinese claimed they were holding Kiangwan and Mingchang villages.

In a cold rain, the Chinese strengthened their trenches, placed additional mines in the flat, muddy terrain cut by creeks and canals, and hid machine gun nests behind clumps of trees and along bridgeheads.

A tour of the area behind the Chinese lines would convince one that the Japanese would need a large, well-equipped force to take what remained of Tazang. The Chinese can hold the area against superior numbers for a long time unless their ammunition supply runs low.

The Japanese concede general denied reports that the first units of the 25,000 reinforcements expected from Tokyo had arrived. But it appeared only a matter of hours until Japanese transports might be seen slipping past the ancient Chinese forts at Wosung under the protection of Japanese men-of-war. They will dock near the international settlement then to disgorge their loads of trim well equipped soldiers, tanks, and big guns.

The war area was not entirely "all quiet" during the night despite the fact that the Japanese had suspended their offensive to await the arrival of fresh troops. A brisk exchange of artillery fire began at 2 a. m. and continued until dawn. Several shells fell inside the international settlement.

Chinese snipers in the Tazang area kept up their fire. Defenders of Tazang dug in among the ruins of the prosperous town blasted away by Japanese shell fire and aerial bombardment until only two buildings of any size remained standing.

While there were no immediate plans for evacuation of Americans from the settlement, consular officials learned that six American missionaries at a Lutheran mission at Kwangchow, in southwest Honan province, were threatened by bandits. The United States consular at Hankow requested protection from Chinese provincial troops.

Thieves visited the barn of Joe Schomeyer, one mile east of Cloverdale Tuesday night and stole two tires, an automobile jack and some tools, according to a report to Sheriff Alva Bryan. The thief or thieves left no trace.

Washington threw a dollar across the Potomac---

but, you will say, "A dollar went farther in those days." If you have been trading in Greencastle, however, you have found out that, compared with three and four years ago, Washington should now be able to throw his dollar across the Atlantic Ocean. A dollar spent at home today will buy more high quality merchandise than ever before, and by staying in Putnam County will do a real service for yourself and your community.

RAZZ SHEET OUT TOMORROW

A bomb shell of publicity will be shot Thursday night when Sigma Delta Chi, DePauw journalistic fraternity, releases its Razz Sheet. Agents will sell the issue before the Wabash game and at the half.

Featured in the sheet are advertisements on the Balleyhoo type for local merchants, reported Charles Geile, business manager.

All the scandal on the faculty and the students will be printed in the issue, according to Tristram Coffin, editor. The edition has been planned to copy the tabloid newspaper and will feature sensational stories and pictures.

The entire Sigma Delta Chi chapter will leave town following the sale of the papers to escape injury that might be inflicted upon them by irate persons, who have been lampooned in the issue.

SEEDS

This is a good month for the Hoosier State to remember one of its historic places. As we travel the State road Number 43 from Lafayette north, we pass a place of real beauty. It is "Battle Ground." It is here that the historic Battle of Tippecanoe was fought under the command of William Henry Harrison. A beautiful monument has been built to commemorate this significant victory. It was in this month that William Henry Harrison was born. Harrison is a name for Indians to conjure with. William Henry, the hero of Tippecanoe, was the first territorial governor. He resided at Vincennes and was the ninth president of the United States. His father Benjamin Harrison of Virginia, was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Our own Benjamin Harrison was his grandson.

It is possible for us to walk among the monuments of the dead and be conscious only of what we see. It would be an irreparable loss indeed to forget and lose out of our life the virtues of men who have inspired the building of monuments like Tippecanoe. Such monuments are not the result of one battle, one victory, or one supreme effort. They are the fountain of toil, vision, and self control, battles without number that have waged in the soul of intrepid leaders.

Rate Case Goes To High Court

WABASH VALLEY ELECTRIC CO.
TO PUT EVIDENCE BEFORE
U. S. JURISTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24, (UP)—The United States district court decision against the Wabash Valley Electric company in the Martinsville rate case will be carried to the U. S. supreme court, Robert M. Feustel, council for the utility, announced today.

"We feel that the highest court of the land should pass on questions raised in this case," Feustel said. "We are preparing the papers necessary for the appeal."

The district court decision, returned a few days ago, ruled that Martinsville rates should be based on valuation of property used to furnish service in that city. The utility, after obtaining an injunction against a rate reduction ordered by the public service commission, held that the rates should be based on property in the entire power system.

"The decision of the appeal court in holding that a municipality must be considered as a unit in establishing rates, and the court's method of allocating to that unit the property used and the operating expenses of the company, are two of the questions we feel should be passed upon by the U. S. supreme court," Feustel asserted.

GOV. MURRAY CAMPAIGNING OVER STATE

"ALFALFA BILL" SEEKS DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION AS PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE

MARION AND GARY TODAY

Oklahoma's Fiery Governor Spoke In Indianapolis and Monticello On Tuesday

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 24, (UP)—With a twirl of his drooping mustache and a shake of his shaggy locks, Oklahoma's fiery Gov. William H. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray today put his "grass roots" candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination before the citizens of Indiana.

The militant governor outlined his policies in picturesque language before audiences at Indianapolis and Monticello yesterday and today pushed forward to Marion and Gary for additional addresses.

Mixing homely quips and biting sarcasm, the governor, garbed in a travel-stained, rusty black suit, warned his listeners the nation was following the pathway that led to the downfall of ancient empires.

He scattered a trail of ashes from his nickel cigars about the state as he rushed from meeting to meeting, unimpaired of appearance and heedless of the strain of sleeper jumps that showed in his care-lined face.

Though he launched his campaign with a denunciation of the Hoover administration, the Oklahoma governor pointed out in his Indiana addresses that no one administration nor party was responsible for a situation that embraces the world.

"A lack of statesmanship since the world war," Murray said, wiping his plentiful mustache with a huge oft-used handkerchief, "has brought the present difficulties."

"The country lost its personal leaders during the war and the men at the helm have not been statesmen who plan for the coming years," he said.

He characterized Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson the greatest leaders in American history. The country's greatest statesmen he named as Daniel Webster, Thomas Jefferson, John C. Calhoun and Thomas H. Benton.

The chief attack was against "corporate interests."

"Propaganda of the corporate interests has been accepted by citizens in place of deliberation and study of government and politics. This propaganda controls society. Citizens have become economically dependent and have lost hope," he declared.

Met Tuesday

A guest meeting of the A. A. U. W. was held at Mansfield Hall on Tuesday evening. The program was arranged by the education and health committees, of which Mrs. Grafton Longden and Mrs. Harold Ross are the chairmen. The address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Murray DeArmond, psychiatrist, of Indianapolis, who spoke on the subject, "Mental Mechanisms." Dr. DeArmond showed that the mental conduct of human beings is essentially all alike, the difference between the normal and the abnormal being one of degree rather than one of kind. He described the parts of the mind and the various mental mechanisms which cause us to behave as we do. In his discussion he pointed out that the precocious child needs just as careful guidance as the subnormal child in order to have a normal mental balance at maturity.

Hoyt's Compound Brought Back My Health

MR. M. D. FAUST SAYS HOYT'S IS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD

"I'm sorry I didn't find Hoyt's Compound years ago and I would have been spared years of suffering," states Mr. M. D. Faust, who resides on R. R. 2, Crawfordville, Indiana.

"For the past two years I have been a victim of stomach and kidney trouble. Nothing seemed to help me. I suffered with a terrible dull pain across my back and would have awful dizzy spells. My food did not digest but gas would form and bloated me so that it was all I could do to breathe. I always had a burning in my stomach.

"As Hoyt's Compound was so highly recommended I decided to get it. I want to say that Hoyt's Compound has certainly given me back my health. I am gaining back my strength and my appetite is good and I sleep well now. Those aches and pains have left me and life is once more worth living."

Take the advice of Mr. Faust and get the Hoyt's Compound. Don't neglect your health, the most valuable of all of your possessions.

See the Hoyt's Specialist at the National Cut Rate Store, south side the courthouse in Greencastle. Hoyt's Compound is also highly recommended by all leading druggists everywhere.

Two Greencastle high school seniors will play in their last regularly scheduled basketball game Saturday night when the Tiger Cubs clash with the scrappy Wiley team at Terre Haute. These young men are Donald "Tuck" Stone, forward, and Kenneth Dawson, guard. Both boys have been regulars on the local quintet for three seasons and each has performed splendidly in their respective positions.

Stone and Dawson were accorded much praise from sports writers over Indiana this season. Last March during the state finals at the Butler fieldhouse, these two athletes were important factors in Greencastle's

Other members of the Greencastle first string are Godfrey, guard; Seeley, guard; Campbell, forward; Cox, forward; McGill, forward; and Hauck, forward or center.

All of this group are underclassmen and will be fighting for varsity berths next fall.

JUNIORS WIN; GIRLS LOSE

Greencastle's state champion Junior High net team journeyed to Brownsburg Tuesday night and out-clasped their opponents, 48 to 9. At that time was the outcome of the game in doubt with the Junior Cubs giving the spectators a real exhibition of how basketball should be played Friday evening, the Juniors tangle with the Frankfort Juniors at Frankfort. They meet the Wiley B. team Saturday at Terre Haute.

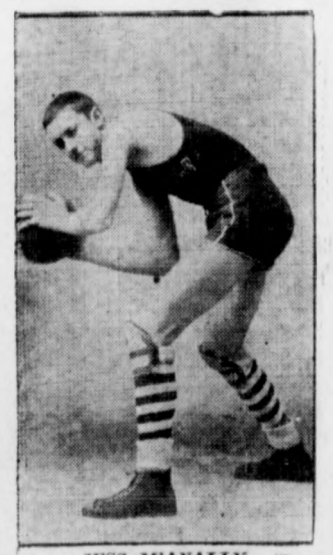

The Greencastle girls' team was not so fortunate last night as they were defeated by the Brownsburg lassies, 28 to 14. Despite the difference in the score, the contest was most interesting and the local fair sex went down with colors flying.

GAME AT BAINBRIDGE

Albert Heavin, principal of the Bainbridge high school, informed us this morning that a change had been made in the basketball schedule of that school and that Rockville would play at Bainbridge Friday night instead of on the Parke county floor. This will be the final contest of the season for Coach Lonsberry's net snipers who will settle down next week to intensive preparation for the sectional tourney.

cies is smaller than Texas. The mountains of Japan traverse the country from north to south with many laterals. This provides many short and rapid streams. As a result of the snow and rains, Japan is abundantly watered, but the streams vary in volume and are practically valueless for navigation purposes. This condition does make possible the development of water power, and it is interesting to note that more than 50 percent of all the homes of Japan are electrically lighted.

"Because the eastern coast is rising and the western coast subsiding, Japan is subject to severe earthquake shocks, which average approximately 3-1-2 per day. In the 15 years ending 1897, which is the first recorded period, there were 17,750 shocks. In the three centuries prior to 1897 there were 108 shocks disastrous enough to merit historical mention. In the 1923 earthquake, which was in a restricted area about Tokyo, 558,049 houses were destroyed and 91,344 were killed.

"As a result of the peculiar physical makeup of Japan, but 15 1-2 percent of its land is cultivated—in a word, but 23,000 square miles are at present being tilled. This may be increased to 20 percent, but at diminishing returns.

"In discussing its economic background, I shall deal with its economic resources. Suffice it to say that a virile, able, and rising people find themselves forced to live in an area that cannot produce enough food to sustain them, and which does not possess sufficient resources to enable them to build up a surplus whereby they may purchase food. This condition is a temptation for underdeveloping the problems of Japan."

COEDS FROWN ON LEAP YEAR WEEK

Who said the woman always pays? They won't at Northwestern university.

Senior male students proposed a "leap year week." The idea was that the coeds make their own dates with selected men, entertain them and pay the bills.

When Margaret Frantz, president of the Women's Student Government association, heard of this she took one deep breath and said:
"We'd rather stay at home than give way to the unwomanly display of chasing a man."

MARCH 1 AUTO LICENSE DEADLINE IS WARNING

March 1 will be the "deadline" for use of 1931 automobile plates, according to James M. Carpenter, chief of the license division in the office of Frank May Jr., secretary of state.

The fact that sales are approximately 35 per cent below those of last year will not result in a delay in enforcing the deadline, Mr. Carpenter said.

"New licenses or don't use your car," will be the slogan beginning with the first of next month, Mr. Carpenter said.

E. C. Huber, accountant in the license department, estimated that sales at branches had fallen off about 50 per cent from last year.

Mr. Huber issued a warning that motorists without new licenses may

Files Suit To Get Insurance

A two-paragraph complaint was filed in circuit court Wednesday by Hugh Hammond, of Greencastle, against the Fort Dearborn Insurance Company of Chicago, in which the plaintiff makes demands of $300 and $400 in the respective paragraphs. Frank Stoessel is attorney for the plaintiff.

Hammond alleges in the first paragraph that a truck owned by him was insured against fire by an agent of the company in the sum of $300 but that the company has refused to pay this amount following destruction of the truck January 7.

In the second paragraph Hammond alleges that policy issued to him January 1 and mailed to the agent from Chicago January 4, did not insure him against loss by fire as agreed between the plaintiff and the agent. Neither the plaintiff nor the agent were notified that the policy had been issued without insuring the plaintiff against loss by fire, it is charged. The plaintiff alleges that by reason of the negligence of the defendant in notifying him that they had not insured him against fire he did not secure fire insurance with another company and that he lost his truck to the said negligence of the defendant. A demand of $400 is made in this paragraph.

A GOOD RECORD

Otha Meek, a Marion township farmer, fed 40 August pigs and marketed them at six months at an average weight of 225 pounds per hog. They were fed Wayne 40 per cent Supplement and ear corn. The rate of gain and feed cost over a period of 25 days was kept by Mr. Meek to see how they were actually gaining per day and were as follows:

Corn consumed in 25 days—eight bushels per day, or 200 bushels each, $50.

Wayne 40% consumed in 25 days—1,200 pounds, at $2.10 per cwt., $25.20. Total feed cost, $75.20.

Rate of gain per hog in 25 days, 72 pounds. Average gain per day for each hog, 2.88 pounds.

Gain on 40 hogs in 25 days 2,880 pounds and feed cost per 100 pounds pork produced, $2.61.

These hogs were sold by Compton and Wyson at the Indianapolis stock yards at a 20 cent premium. They brought $4.60 per hundred pounds. Other hogs that day sold at $4.40.

"My business takes me all over the world"

"Guess I'm like most Americans who travel a lot. I take many of my hobbies with me. Chesterfields, for instance. I've smoked 'em for years.

"They're not only made good, but they're made to keep good, and that's why they hold old customers like me.

"Take the tobaccos. That fragrant Turkish tobacco—your taste gets that, all right. And the whole blend—say, there's nothing like it for milder, better taste.

"But my point is, Chesterfields are just the same wherever I buy them—Argentina, India, New Zealand. The package is O. K.—moisture-tight, clean-looking—keeps the aroma in.

"Even the paper comes into it. As far off as Shanghai I've noticed how pure and white and fresh it is.

"I've never yet found a town where Chesterfields couldn't be had! And no matter where I've bought 'em, they've always been just exactly right!"

"WHEREVER I HAPPEN TO BE, I tune in on Chesterfield's Radio Program. Six nights a week at 10:30 E. S. T. over the Columbia Coast-to-Coast Network. Nat Shilkret's famous orchestra and Alex Gray, soloist. Say, can't that fellow sing?"
